TYPES OF MOBILITY – DURATION

It is obligatory that the activity lasts at least 5 consecutive activity days.

- 1. TEACHING MOBILITY : In order for the activity to be valid, it is mandatory to give at least 8 lesson hours during 5 working days / 1 week.
- 2. TRAINING MOBILITY: It is the field of mobility that allows academic or administrative staff to receive training. Within the scope of this activity, it is possible for the person to receive various trainings (such as on-the-job trainings, observation processes) in order to improve the skills they have in their current job. Conference participation cannot be supported within the scope of the mobility.

- 3. “COMBINED” TEACHING & TRAINING MOBILITY: In cases where teaching and training activities are carried out together, the minimum teaching period is one week or 4 hours for short-term activities.

GRANT

- It is foreseen to grant 5 days for the duration of the mobility and 2 days for the travel days (7 days in total).
- In case the mobility and travel days are on the same day, a one-day grant payment can be made.
- Staff can also participate in the mobility without receiving a grant or with partial grant. BUT an application is still a must to be selected within the Erasmus programme.
- The activity periods of the staff should be fully granted, or the activity can be carried out completely without a grant, that is, with a "zero grant". There is no option to partially grant the activity period.
